Eloise complex sold to developer

One of the most iconic sites in Wayne County was sold to a developer last week for $1.

The former Wayne County General Hospital, also known as Eloise, in Westland, will become the site of a mixed-use residential complex for low-income seniors and families. The developer, identified as Morgan Development based in Southfield, purchased all 28 acres at the site, including the Kay Beard Building, and other out buildings on the property between Merriman and Henry Ruff roads.

Officials from Wayne County expect the developer to spend a minimum of $20 million on the project and construct at least 106 units on the land. There is an 18-month deadline to begin rehabilitation at the site which must be complete within 42 months, according to the sales documents.

The 150,000 square-foot Kay Beard Building will be renovated into senior housing units.

The property had been listed for sale by the county at $1.5 million at one time. Maintenance at the vacant property was costing $275,000 annually, according to a fact sheet distributed by Wayne County. According to the sheet, no other offers for the land were received.

Westland Mayor William Wild supported the sale of the land. In a June 4 letter he said that the developer has agreed to remove the blighted structures on the property and that the addition of the new housing units will help support a nearby commercial center.

The social ministry arm of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, Samaritas, continues to operate a family service center on the Eloise site. That program will continue to operate, according to a county spokesman. He added that the county is going to explore possible senior housing options with Samaritas.

"While the Eloise complex was once a large publicly funded and operated institution, this public use is no longer needed or desired; therefore, as government officials we need to facilitate the redevelopment of this community into new development driven by private investment and sustained by one of the state's largest, diversified, non-profit agencies, which is Samaritas," Wild wrote.

The Eloise complex first opened in 1939 as a poorhouse and a farm, and grew to span 900 acres and house 76 buildings. It once had its own post office, tobacco field, greenhouse, cannery, and piggy. It was also the location of the Wayne County General Hospital, which closed in 1984. The cemetery located on the historic property will be maintained, according to a county spokesman. More than 7,000 former residents of the hospital are buried there, according to the TallestEloise website.

Join the parade

The Plymouth File and Drum Corps will again be part of the annual Northville Community Foundation Independence Day Parade that will step off from the Northville Downs parking lot at 10 a.m. next Wednesday, July 4. In Plymouth, the Good Morning America parade will begin at 9 a.m. July 4 at 850 Main St. and march through downtown. The holiday will begin in Plymouth with the free Michigan Philharmonic concert, An American Salute, beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 30 in Kellogg Park. Again this year, Mill Race Village at 215 Griswold St. adjacent to Ford Field in Northville will offer special attractions from 11 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. following the parade. Attractions this year include live music and tours of the historic buildings along with some live reenactments of historical scenes.

Foundation awards annual scholarships

Fifteen Westland students are ensured of a brighter future following the presentation of more than $27,000 in scholarship last week.

Westland Community Foundation board members awarded the scholarships to students who will be studying in colleges, community colleges and attaining skilled journeyman training. The presentation included family members of the winners at the Dyer Center last Monday, June 18.

To date, the Westland Community Foundation has awarded more than $200,000 in scholarships to area students.

Among the scholarship winners this year were: Austin Bazzan, who will attend Lake Superior University; Christopher Forbes who will attend Wayne State University; Jacob Haseck, who will attend Schoolcraft Community College; Terry Lewis who will attend Schoolcraft Community College; Noah Luke who will attend Washtenaw Community College; Ella Main who will attend Schoolcraft Community College; Bernard McQueen who will attend Eastern Michigan University; Jayson Mills who will be going to Ferris State University; Madison Mobley, who will attend Wayne State University; Jasmin Perry, who will attend Michigan State University; Austin Reid who will attend Schoolcraft Community College; Zackary Rowe, who

INKSTER - ROMULUS

Beautification award nominations being accepted

Romulus Beautification Committee members will accept nominations for the 2018 exterior home decorating contest through the month of July. To recommend a home or homes or a business, contact committee Chairperson Chris Dunn by e-mail at cdunn@romulusgoc.com or call (734) 955-4531.

Last year, the city awarded 158 beautification award certificates, bringing the total to more than 250 in the last three years of the program. This year, businesses will participate in the contest and committee members said they expect entries to surpass that number.

At a spring Beautification Committee meeting, Mike Guback, president and general manager of Two Men and A Lawnmower Professional Lawn Care Company, was the guest speaker. He instructed the group on how to produce a healthy and beautiful lawn.

Guback listed 10 steps essential to effective lawn care:

- In early spring, repair any damage caused to the lawn by grubs, moles or small rodents.
- Rake the lawn to remove leaves and debris and to stimulate the grass root system.
- Fertilize the lawn with a mixture to include active ingredients for crab grass prevention.

Last year, the city awarded 158 beautification award certificates...

- Water the lawn regularly. If the grass goes into a drought situation, it will be more susceptible to diseases. Always water in the early morning before the sun rises.
- Prep the lawnmower according to the manufacturer instructions. Sharpen the blades, change the oil, spark plugs, fuel and air filters.
- Cut to a height of 3-inches as a general rule. Cutting the lawn too low will make it more - susceptible to drought and turning yellow.

- Every other week, alternate the cut patterns while mowing.
- Rake after mowing to stimulate the grass or mulch cut for several weeks after fertilizing to avoid bagging up the fertilizer you recently put down.
- In the fall, thatch and feed the lawn.
- In the late fall, just before winter, seed the lawn.

For the best grass feeding and nutritional results, Guback said, hire a professional fertilizing company, or homeowners can purchase the product and follow the direction provided by the manufacturer themselves.

Two Men and A Lawn Mower has been based in Romulus since 1998. Guback, who lives in Romulus and is a former Romulus firefighter, said the firm provides lawn maintenance, fertilizing, shrub trimming, mulch, sod, shrubs, retaining walls, brick pavers and other landscaping work.

For more information on Two Men and A Lawn Mower, call (734) 955-9968 or email 2menandalawnmower@comcast.net.

Music's in the air

The Sounds of Downtown concert series continues at 7 p.m. July 13 at Romulus Historical Park, 11147 Hunt St. The concert is one of seven free music performances scheduled on Friday nights throughout the summer. All shows are family-oriented. Scheduled concerts include July 13 Scott Martin Band, above, (90s music and more); July 27 - Infinity & Beyond (Journey tribute band); Aug. 3 - SPO/R&R Never Forgets (Bob Seger tribute band); Aug. 10 - Mop Opera (classic rock); Aug. 17 - D'Tour (soul and funk); Aug. 24 - Rustbelt Revival. Concerts will take place rain or shine except in the case of lightning. The area is sprayed for pest control to provide a comfortable environment. For more information, call the Romulus DDA at (734) 955-4531 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

Legends camp applications due

Henry Hank Hughes will be honored during the 21st Annual Inkster Legends Basketball Camp which will take place Friday, Aug. 4 and Saturday, Aug. 5 this year.

Applications for the camp are due by July 15, noted Director Fred Smiley.

The camps are for boys and girls ages 9-16 and are divided into age groups for basketball coaching. Classes for students ages 9-12 begin at 7:30 a.m. and classes for students ages 13-16 begin at 12:30. All the classes take place at the Booker Doozier

Recreational Complex, 2025 Middlebelt Road in Inkster.

Parents or guardians are required for all transportation for students. Morning session pick up is at 12:30 p.m. and afternoon pick up is set at 5 p.m.

The classes are free and teach basic skills and fundamentals of basketball including shooting, passing, rebounding and defense.

For more information, contact Smiley at (734) 890-2478 or visit www.inksterlegends.com.

Inkster residents receive new trash receptacles

Inkster residents will see some changes starting July 1 when a new trash contractor provides them with curbside recycling.

Inkster officials have employed Green for Life Environmental Group (GFL) a new trash hauling service which will provide residents with a new 96-gallon garbage cart in addition to a 65-gallon blue recycling cart.

The carts will be delivered to each home.

Current bins are being collected this week on corresponding collection days by Republic Waste, and GFL will deliver new ones starting the week of July 23.

As the city transitions into the new eco-friendly program for the community, residents are asked to leave their trash out in closed plastic bags, only in the morning, until the new carts arrive.

Recycling items including cardboard boxes, plastic milk jugs and bottles, phone books, household plastic items, aluminum, steel and tin cans and junk mail can now all be recycled by residents, officials said.

BELLEVILLE - CANTON

Rotary Club members beautify community

Members of the Rotary Club of Belleville had a busy few weeks this spring.

Club members led the clean-up of the western boat launch on Belleville Lake, planted trees around the Van Buren Township water tower, awarded scholarships to seven deserving Belleville High graduates and planted more than 1,000 begonias around the gazebo in Victory Park.

Garden Fantasy and Keith Bruder Landscaping provided plants, other materials and tools for the flower planting, designed to brighten up the area for the summer.

Non-Rotarian volunteers joined club members for several of the efforts and, according to a club spokesman, their help was very much appreciated.

"The club encourages anyone interested in learning more about Rotary, whether to help in local projects or possible membership to visit the club website at www.BellevilleRotary.org," he said.

During the next few weeks, club members will be concentrating on ticket sales for the upcoming Lucky Rubber Duck Race on Belleville Lake. The race is normally conducted on the same day as the Taste of Belleville-Aug. 16 this year. Sales of these tickets help fund much of the work that Rotary members are able to accomplish in the Belleville, Sampter and Van Buren area.

Rotarians Debbie Green, Brian Peary, Ray Eisinger, Susan Richardson, Joyce Rochowski, Keith Bruder, Jerry Richardson and Walt Rochowski, a citizen volunteer, take a rest following the flower planting.

Radioactive waste on route to Van Buren landfill

Shipments of contaminated soil from a closed beryllium plant in Ohio will begin arriving at the Wayne Disposal Plant in Van Buren Township next week.

The low-level radioactive dirt from a contaminated former military supplier contains lead and radioactive elements of thorium, radium and uranium, all known carcinogens particularly if inhaled or ingested.

Both the U.S. Department of Ecology and the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality officials have stated that the toxic waste does not pose a threat to the health or environment. It was, however, removed from the Ohio location as part of the remediation of a former Atomic Energy Commission site. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, charged with the removal of the contamination and remediation of the site, estimated that about 11 tractor trailer loads of soil, each carrying about 15 tons of contaminated dirt, could be expected at the landfill, which has a permit to accept hazardous materials. More than 134,000 tons of radioactive dirt will be removed from the Luckey plant which supplied the highly toxic metal to the military and Atomic Energy Commission during the 1940s and 50s. The remediation at the site is expected to continue for 8 to 10 years, officials said.

The low-level radioactive dirt from a contaminated former military supplier contains lead and radioactive elements of thorium, radium and uranium...

"This is stuff that could go into any landfill, basically anywhere," said Robert Skowronek, supervisor of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality Radioactive Materials Unit. He said that it is a policy of the Army Corps of Engineers that the contaminated soil be disposed of in a licensed landfill or hazardous waste disposal site. The radioactivity is at level that exceeds federal regulatory limits, which makes disposal at a licensed landfill necessary.

The cleanup at the Ohio site is estimated to cost about $244 million.

David Crumrine, a spokesman for US Ecology operators of the Wayne Disposal Landfill, said that the concentrations of radioactivity in the soil from the Luckey plant is barely above normal background levels. He said the waste is not regulated by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission as the level is so low. He added that the Army Corps engineers approved of the Wayne Disposal site for the material due to the high level of environmental protection the facility offers.

Regulations require that hazardous waste be rendered inert before disposal, but the radioactive soil isn't considered hazardous and can therefore be directly disposed of at the Van Buren landfill.

Annual camp-out planned

One of the favorite family traditions in Canton, the Canton Leisure Services Annual Family Camp-Out and Movie Night, will take place Friday, July 13, featuring the animated movie "Moana," rated PG.

Families are invited to celebrate the great outdoors and set up tents on the north side of Heritage Park near the pavilion. There will be plenty of activities for the entire family beginning at 6 p.m. including: inflatable bouncers; snore making; family games and more. Face painting will be available for a nominal fee. Cruise Custom Concess will also be on site providing a dinner option. In the event of inclement weather, the movie may be suspended or cancelled. A grand prize will also be awarded to the best decorated Hawaiian-themed campsite.

Once again, campers and RVs will be allowed to participate; however, no electricity will be available. Set-up of tents and campers will begin at noon Friday. No advance reservation is necessary and the $21 camping fee will be collected on-site the day of the event, each only.

Those wishing to take part in the activities and movie but not interested in camping-out, can purchase wristbands for $6 per participant. The wristband does not include face painting, refreshments, and concessions. Sweetwaters Coffee & Tea of Canton will also be onsite with additional breakfast items for sale on Saturday, July 14. Sleep under the stars in Heritage Park, located west of Canton Center Road and south of Cherry Hill Road, during this overnight camping experience. WAYNE - WESTLAND

In memoriam

Milton L. Mack Sr., a pillar of the Wayne community, died June 20, 2017 following a long illness.

Mr. Mack was honored with the Patrick J. Norton Community Service Award for his many contributions to the City of Wayne in 2001.

He was born in Toronto, Ontario, on July 2, 1929, the son of Marie Rose LaPrise and Milton Arthur Mack. A kind and generous husband and father, he married his high school sweetheart, Virgie, in 1948, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. He started working for E & L Transport in 1949 and worked his way up from clerk to head accountant and office manager his title when he retired in 2001.

While working at E & L, he attended classes at night to attain his Associates Degree in accounting at Henry Ford Community College.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Mack is survived by four children, Milton Jr., Robert, Theresa and Marie; four grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Mack served on the Wayne Zoning Board of Appeals and the Wayne Building Authority. He also served as president of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Among his special interests were playing the guitar, banjo and ukulele, and he loved to work on cars. Those visiting his home would invariably have the oil in their vehicle checked by Mr. Mack, his family recalled.

On the anniversary of his death, he is greatly missed and remembered by his family and many friends.

Westland police honor exceptional officers

Three members of the Westland Police Department were awarded honors during a presentation recognizing their exemplary work recently.

Officer James Compton was named as Officer of the Year while Of. Brandon Paris and dispatcher Dina Benyo were each chosen for the Chief's Distinguished Service Award.

Compton has been with the Westland department for four years, after beginning his law enforcement career with Detroit. He was recognized for his involvement with the Police Explorers, where he serves as a field training officer, helping recent hires in the department learn procedures.

Westland Police Chief Jeff Jedrusik noted that Compton was responsible for 15 guns being taken off the city streets and that he was involved in several cases that also involved large quantities of drugs. Jedrusik said that Compton had consistently been in the top 25 percent of number of arrests made annually.

Deputy Chief Randy Thivierge announced the award to Benyo, who has been a dispatcher with the Westland police for more than 23 years. She was recognized for her efforts to help improve dispatch operations, officials said. Benyo also handles many of the departmental administrative duties as a volunteer, Thivierge said. He called her a "leader among her peers" and said that she "consistently strives to better the police department, exemplifies what it is to be a great dispatcher. She's always looking for better ways to do the job."

Paris' work with the first Police Youth Academy was also honored with a Distinguished Service Award. The academy is a week-long summer program for high school students which introduces them to police work. The academy was Paris' idea, noted Westland Deputy Chief Brian Miller.

Miller praised Paris' initiative and the success of the program under his direction.

Other officers were honored during the ceremony including Ron Buckley, Mark Cholak, Rodney Donald, Chaim Kunk, Brandon Pettit, Kevin Cullum, Kevin Yudi, Kris Landis and John Gatti who were presented with Lifesaving awards for their work.

Departmental citations also went to Compton, Gatti, Jacob Broda, Robert Schrag, DeAndre Phear and Jason Neville.

Officers who were awarded certificates of merit included Donald, Kozak, Matt Allen, Adam Tardif, Kevin Smith, Jerry Farnar, Jon Torselski, Joe Bobb, Tom Rogers, Jason Brassfield and Nathan MacRae.

Compton, Andrew Teschendorf and Michael Little and K-9 Hemi were awarded departmental citations.

Academy enrollments accepted

Westland teens interested in police work have only until tomorrow, June 29, to register for the second annual police Youth Academy.

The week-long program is designed to provide a hands-on overview of police work for high school students. This year, the sessions will take place from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. July 23-27.

Topics covered will include traffic stops, dispatch operations, evidence processing, Taser use, emergency vehicle operations and court duties. Students will also visit the Wayne County Regional Police Academy at Schoolcraft College.

The sessions are open to all high school students in the Wayne Westland Community School District or high school students who live in Westland. This is a free program.

Space is limited, so application does not guarantee enrollment.

The program will take place at police headquarters, 38701 Ford Road in Westland. Youth Academy is open to all Wayne-Westland Community School District high school students or any high school student who lives in Westland.

Applications are available at www.cityofwestland.com/departments/police-department under the "Recruitment Team" label. For more information, call Of. Brandon Paris at (734) 722-0633.

Workers, Local 58.

Those students attending Schoolcraft Community College will receive matching funds from the Schoolcraft College Foundation for the following year:

NORTHVILLE - PLYMOUTH

Demolition permit for historic home denied

Progress apparently took a back seat to history last week when the demolition of a 150-year-old building was denied by a unanimous vote of the Historic District Commission in Northville.

Guidobone Building Co. purchased the building as a new business headquarters and applied for permits to renovate the 150-year-old structure last year after the purchase. Guidobone spokesperson Ed Funke explained that during the first stage of that restoration effort, engineers determined that the building framework and foundation were beyond repair. Guidobone then requested permission from the historic commission to raze the building at 341 E. Main St. and erect a new structure for the company headquarters.

Only two of the more than 20 individuals who attended the meeting of the commission last week were in favor of granting the demolition permit. One of those was Charles Lapham, a former member of the Northville City Council.

...that building has served its purpose and we need to move on Lapham told the commission members that future business "looking to move to Northville" would realize how difficult their plans might be.

"I know this isn't a popular sentiment tonight, but that building has served its purpose and we need to move on," Lapham said. His comments were overshadowed by other audience members who spoke during the 2-hour discussion of the issue. All were in favor of preserving the building based on the historic significance of the site.

Northville Historic District Commission Chairman Joseph Hoffman said he was impressed with the number of residents who attended the meeting and commented on the importance of preserving the structure. He said there was obviously a lot of passion for the building.

Funke said that the Guidobone company would accept the commission decision but that he had no idea what the owners would now do with the property. He said they were determined to make something positive out of the situation. He did comment that the 20 people who spoke at the meeting were a minuscule percentage of the 6,000 city residents.

Developer proposes homes at former Bathey site

Pulte Homes has submitted plans to the Plymouth Planning Commission for the clean up and redevelopment of a contaminated site that has been vacant for three decades.

Pulte submitted a plan to build 76 attached town homes on the 15-acre property at Mill and Amelia streets, the former site of the Bathey Manufacturing Plant. According to the plans submitted by the developer, the proposed homes would be 1,260 to 2,300 square feet in area, and sell in the high $200,000 to mid-$300,000 range. The homes in what will be called Mill Street Towns, would have three bedrooms, 2 1/2 bathrooms and two-car garages. The area would have amenities, according to the presented plans, including a walking and biking path, green space and a small park. Bathey was the manufacturer of baskets to hold auto parts during plating or chemical testing. The site has been determined contaminated by environmental studies and remediation of the site would be necessary before development could proceed. According to a state geologist with the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, chemical contamination at the site includes petroleum benzene products often found at former industrial sites.

In the documents Pulte submitted last week, the developer indicated that the removal of the contaminated soil from the site is part of the plan. There is no plan, however, to redevelop 5 acres at the northernmost corner of the property which is contaminated with high levels of chlorinated solvents. A limited liability company MCPPT SMILL, owns that portion of the land where groundwater and other contamination has also been found. Studies indicate that no contamination has spread to the city water system or to neighboring property, officials have stated.

A public hearing before the planning commission is set for 7 p.m. July 11 at Plymouth City Hall.

City council OK's ballot issue for street repairs

At the general election Nov. 6, voters in the City of Northville will be asked to decide on a ballot proposal for the issuance of a $3,050,000 Street Improvement Bond. The bond will be repaid during 10 years and the funding will be used, officials said, to replace and repair city roads and provide upgraded maintenance to slow the rate of deterioration.

An assessment of city streets made in a 2016-17 by the engineering firm Spalding DeDecker reported that 465 percent were in "poor" condition and 203 percent were in "fair" condition. Engineers estimate at the end of 10 years, the bond program would increase the number of streets rated as "good" to 63.1 percent.

Based on the overall condition of the city, engineers ranked Northville roads at 4.57 on a 10-point scale. In the engineers' report, experts recommend that roads have a rating of 5.7 or higher to maintain a pavement network with satisfactory driving conditions and the ability to fund repairs as needed. If the ballot proposal is approved, the rating would climb 6 percent within the first two years of increased roads spending, according to the engineering report.

The engineers' projections show that spending these funds now is less expensive than the current city method of funding repairs, as reconstructing failed streets later is much more expensive than repairing and resurfacing streets now, officials said. The total costs of maintenance and street reconstruction are projected to be $2.5 million lower over the following 15 years, if the bond issue is approved, than if the city continues to spend the current amount of approximately $500,000 per year. If the ballot proposal is approved, bond funds would be combined with the existing city street millage and $1,050,000 from reserve funds to finance an infusion of $6.25 million into street repairs and replacement over the next four years. After spending the bond funds, the city would continue to use its existing street millage (currently 1.68 mills), which generates about $550,000 annually, to repair and maintain the improved street system, officials stated.

If the ballot proposal is approved, the estimated millage to be levied beginning in 2019 would be 0.9787 mills (98 cents per $100 of taxable value). For the average residential taxpayer with a taxable value of $139,943, that amounts to an increase of $137 on the 2019 city tax bill. That increase would continue for a total of 10 years, officials said. The taxable value is no more than half of the market value of the home.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP WATER QUALITY REPORT

Plymouth Township's Annual Water Quality Report is now available. The report describes the source and quality of your drinking water.

The annual report has been required by law since the U.S. Congress passed the 1996 Safe Drinking Act Amendments. Most of the District water intake, including Plymouth Township, receives its drinking water from the Detroit River. The Great Lakes Water Authority (formerly Detroit Water and Sewerage Department) operates the water treatment facilities and pumping stations that supply water to the Township, which operates the population distribution and uses as the water to use for drinking and recreation.

This report is available at <http://www.plymouthmi.gov/Pages/2017WaterQualityReport.aspx> To receive a paper copy of the report, please contact us at (734) 158-7234 or e-mail at info@plymouthmi.gov. You may also pick-up a paper copy at the Clerk's Office or Division of Public Services at Plymouth Hall, 905 S. Saginaw, MI 48176.

Oldest widow confesses all

What could the oldest living Confederate widow have to confess?

Better Than Ever Productions will reveal her secrets and more with a production of "Oldest Living Confederate Widow: Her Confession" at The Village Theater at Cherry Hill this weekend.

The play will take audiences on a trip through history, love, marriage, family, and victory over abuse. Normally a one-woman show, this production, starring Jeanne Marie Pratt of Canton Township, includes strolling musicians, artfully woven throughout the 90-minute story.

Performances are set for 7 p.m. tomorrow, June 29, and Saturday, June 30, and at 1 p.m. July 1. Tickets to all performances are $18 for adults and $16 for seniors and youth. Purchase tickets online at www.cantonvillagetheater.org or by calling (734) 394-5300. Tickets can also be purchased at The Village Theater Box Office one hour prior to show time.

The Village Theater at Cherry Hill is located at 50400 Cherry Hill Road, Canton.

Camp 911 planned

Plymouth City Fire Services in cooperation with Huron Valley Ambulance will host Camp 9-1-1, a free two-day camp July 9 and 10. The camp is open to children ages 8-12 and will take place at the Plymouth Cultural Center from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each day.

Huron Valley Ambulance Paramedics and EMTs serve as camp counselors and teach campers about safety at home and at play, first aid skills, and how to perform CPR and use an AED. Campers' activities include ambulance tours and visiting local hospital emergency departments.

For more information or registration visit camp911.org or <http://bit.ly/Camp9112018> (<http://bit.ly/Camp9112018>)

The camp is limited to 30 students.

Bike clinics offered

This June, Wayne Main Street will be partnering with the Wayne Bicycle Club and Wayne Bicycle Shop to host three bicycle safety inspection events. The events will take place from noon until 4 p.m. Saturdays through June 30 at the Wayne Bicycle Shop, located inside Leon Computer at 35858 W. Michigan Ave., Wayne.

The shop will be offering free bike tune-ups to Wayne residents who present proof of residency.

The clinics are open to residents of all ages.

Yankee Doodle on stage

Inspire Theatre is presenting Yankee Doodle Dandy at 7:30 p.m. June 29 and 30 and July 6 and 7 and at 3 p.m. July 1 and 8.

The play is the story of George M. Cohan, one of the most important icons in American theater. He wrote, composed, produced and appeared in more than three dozen Broadway musicals and published more than 300 songs during his lifetime, including "Over There," "Give My Regards to Broadway," "The Yankee Doodle Boy" and "You're a Grand Old Flag."

Tickets are priced at $16 and available at inspiretheatre.ticketcity.com.

More information is available at (734) 751-7077. Inspire Theatre is located in the Westland Center for the Arts at 33455 Warren Road in Westland.

Life Line screenings offered

Residents living in and around the Romulus can learn about their risk for cardiovascular disease, osteoporosis, diabetes, and other chronic, serious conditions, including "Over There," "Give My Regards to Broadway," "The Yankee Doodle Boy" and "You're a Grand Old Flag."

Screenings can check for the level of plaque buildup in arteries, related to risk for heart disease, stroke and overall vascular health, HDL and LDL cholesterol levels, diabetes risk, bone density as a risk for possible osteoporosis along with kidney and thyroid function.

Screenings are accessible for wheelchair and those with trouble walking. Free parking is also available.

Packages start at $149, but consultants will work with patients to create a package based on individual age and risk factors. Also ask about the Wellness Gold Membership Program which allows customers to get all the screenings they need now, but pay $19.95 a month. Call 1-877-237-1287 or visit www.lifelinescreening.com. Pre-registration is required.
