prohibit the city from concelling the health insurance of about 156 retirees and then imple-menting a "stipend" payment system in lieu of the provisions in the union contracts under which the former municipal employees worked. City officials have proposed paying the retirees who are single and younger than 65 a stipend of $241.50 monthly to purchase health insurance in the open market. A stipend of $508 is promarket. A stipend of $508 is pro-posed for a couple and $605.50 is the amount being offered monthly to a family for insur-ance premiums. Those now older than 65 would receive

"I was astounded that they would create something this special," Kerstens said. "The value is priceless. The work-value is priceless. The work-manship is beautiful." The party, where the neck-lace will be raffled, will include visits from re-enac-tors posing as past residents of Plymouth, like the first woman mayor, Ruth Whipple, And George Starkweather of Old Village. Kerstens said she is often surprised to hear people say that they have lived in Plymouth for years and have never visited the museum. "This is the perfect opportu nity for them," Kerstens said "This may be our most impor-tant exhibit to date, highlight-ing the people and stories of Plymouth. "It will be a fabulous party as well as a major fundraiser for the museum," she said. "We're hoping to raise $25,000 through the sale of raffle tick ets for the diamond necklace. Wayne City Councilman Richard T. (Terry) Sutton IV signed his position last week. In a letter to Mayor Susan owe dated June 30, Sutton said that his resignation would be effective July 1. He said that his decision was made "after a great deal of contemplation" and added that while he felt his decision was for good reasons ng down "I am sorry to be steppi from my position." Sutton said that this was a pivotal time in his life and that he felt it was important for him to focus on his family "by pro-viding them with the best future possible." He added that he intends to move forward with his career as a paramedic. Sutton was appointed to fill a vacancy on the council in 2015. The other six voting mem-bers of the city council, includbers of the city council, includ-ing the mayor, now have 30 days to fill the remainder of his unex-pired term, which continues until Nov. 20, 2018. Belgian Beer Fest this weekend

The largest Belgian Beer Fest in North America will take place for the 7th consecutive year in Westland this Friday and Saturday: The event leads off a new National Belgian Beer Week

More than 200 varieties of craft beer from more than 80 dif-ferent Belgian breweries will be available to attendees of the North American Belgian Beer

The event, sponsored by the Consulate General of Belgium/Flanders Investment and Trade and major importers will take place in the parking lot of the Westland Shopping Center this weekend.

"Microbreweries in Michigan "Microtreverses in Micrigan are an expanding industry and we are proud to have a Westland business host an event that fea-tures some of the best Belgian Kraft Beers," said Westland Mayor William Wild. "This exclusive event is a testament to the international reach our Sh n and Dine district in nd is g stland is garnering." Belgium is recognized by many experts as one of the top beer nations in the world, with Belgian brewers creating more recognized styles of beer per capita than any other country. The Michigan festival is the start of a national Belgian Beer Week After this group gathering, brew-ers will fan out across the coun-try for other showcase events from California to New York, from California to New York, from Texas to Vermont. "The U.S. Belgian Beer Week aims to garner appreciation for arguably the best brewers in the world. These are the original, authentic craft brewers who started brewing beer genera-tions ago for their village, and today export their brews to of recognition for these ers in brewing is a long pie time coming here in the U.S." said Steve Villani, president, Global Beer Network Attendees will have the opportunity not only to sample many unique specialty and bou-tique brews but also to pair them with a menu of Bel inspired cuisine. Belgian beer experts will be on hand to help educate and guide guests through the amazing diversi and complexity of the Belgi beer world.

The festival emphasis of thenticity is underscored by the sponsorship from the Flanders Investment and Trade group of the Consulate Genera of Belgium. Tickets and more festival

Stepping up Inkster firm sponsors environmental effort to collect used shoes for re-use

In addition to getting a good workout at area gyms, gym-goers can do something for the environment and help someone in need. Midwest Recycling has placed a Shoe Collection Station inside several gyms throughout the area so that people can donate gently-used shoes to help a person

'It's only been six weeks since it was placed in here and it looks to be about half full," said Brad Goodstein, owner of RetroFit Studio. "People are donating and it seems like they like being able to do something good."

Midwest Recycling in Inkster has part-nered with HERO, Homeless Empowerment Relationship Organization, in a shoe fundraising effort. HERO is a non-profit organization dedi-cated to help the homeless or at risk of melessness. The Shoe Collection Fundraiser is colcting shoes at local gyms to be reused, recycled, and re-purposed. Rather than these shoes being thrown into a landfill. Midwest Recycling gives a portion to HERO and ships the rest to second hand sellers across the world including Europe, Asia, South America, the Middle East and Africa

"This is truly about the envi said Abe Hachem, president and CEO of Midwest Recycling. "The program's expectation is to make sure nothing goes to a landfill. In addition, these products, which are still in good condition, will be reused." The excess shoes are sold as a fundrais-er for HERO.

"The box was full in a matter of no time," said Carrie Miller, manager of Title Boxing Chub in Canton and Northville. "It was emptied out the other day and there are already about four pairs in there. The boxes have made people aware of both the program and the need, it's great." Currently there are Shoe Collection

Stations for recycled shoes inside more than 20 gyms in Michigan including Anytime Fitness in Westland and Canton Township and High Velocity, also in Cant
