$25.9 million plant to bring 125 jobs

It is no surprise that businesses are looking to invest in our unique community.

Northville Township will see an investment of more than $25.9 million in a new facility of CW Bearing, USA, Inc. that will also bring 125 new jobs to the area.

The new construction will be funded in part by a $550,000 Michigan Economic Development Grant and includes a tax abatement from the township. The announcement by CW Bearing, USA, Inc. had chosen Northville for the new construction came immediately after a Michigan delegation led by Gov. Rick Snyder returned from an eight-day investment mission to China to promote business and tourism.

Snyder talked with leaders of CW Bearing in Shanghai as part of a series of meetings with government leaders, businesses and journalists intended to increase investment in businesses located in the state and promote Michigan as a tourism destination.

The governor's mission to China was paired with a delegation of business leaders organized by the Michigan Economic Development Corporation to meet with prospective business partners, distributors and buyers to increase export opportunities from Michigan to China.

In a prepared statement announcing the selection of Northville, Snyder said, "CW Bearing's decision to locate its U.S. headquarters in Southeast Michigan signals to corporate leaders across the globe that the Great Lakes State offers great opportunities for their business expansion."

"It is no surprise that businesses are looking to invest in our unique community," said Rep. Kurt Heise, R-Plymouth Township. "This development grant will bring additional commerce and job growth to an area already known for its prosperity."

CW Bearing was founded in 1984 in a small workshop in Ningbo on the east coast of China. The company produces bearing components used in electronic power steering systems. CW Bearing USA, Inc. was

Fall Festival begins Civic groups, clubs celebrate community during weekend

It's a lot more than just a good time. It's a way to be part of just about every charitable and community effort in the area while having that good time.

"It's really all about what these groups can do. The good they do in the community," said Eric Jay, the president of the Fall Festival Committee.

He's not kidding. Don't let the delicious aroma of those roasted almonds being sold by Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps members or the tantalizing treats offered by the Polish Kitchen fool you, every purchase made during the Plymouth Fall Festival beginning tomorrow evening is a contribution to a very good cause.

"I am always amazed at what they do," Jay said.

For instance, the opening fundraiser takes place tomorrow night with the Plymouth Fall Festival Taste Fest, sponsored by the Civitan.

The money earned from the $15 admission fee will allow visitors to the garden-like setting outside Station 885 restaurant in Old Village sample foods from the menus of 15 separate area restaurants. It will also help groups like Leader Dogs for the Blind, Paws with a Cause, the Salvation Army Food Pantry, Cooke School, Vet's Haven, the Civitan Research Center, Special Olympics Bowling Harbor Lights, the Plymouth Historical Museum, the Miracle League Easter Egg Hunt, the Plymouth Canton Essay Scholarships, the Plymouth Chamber Scholarship, Camp Civitan, Youth Leadership and Diversity Camp, the adoption of a family at Thanksgiving and two families at Christmas along with the Salvation Army of Plymouth.

The Civitan also have a button booth to support the same causes that is open during the entire weekend along with the other booths that line Main Street, Ann Arbor Trail and Forest Street, many named by local clubs, civic and school groups.

Not to be outdone, Saturday morning brings the annual Kiwanis Pancake Breakfast where more than 3,000 people will enjoy pancakes, sausage, juice and coffee from 7 a.m. until noon or whenever they run out of batter at the Gathering. For $6-$7 the morning of the event's visitors help another long list of charities and community services.

The Kiwanis Club is dedicated to helping children throughout the world and the club sponsors an international

Arrest made in thefts from area apartments

A probable cause hearing was scheduled today for Rodney Vausean Thomas, 40, of Dearborn Heights, in connection with four breaking and entering cases that occurred in June, July and August in Westland, Canton Township and Harper Woods.

Thomas was identified by several anonymous tips through social media and is responsible for stealing televisions from the Greenwood Villa, Westgate Towers, and Village of Our Savior's Manor in Westland, as well as the Walton Woods complex in Canton and the National Church Residences in Harper Woods," said Jeff Jedrusik, Westland chief of police.

Several of the incidents were captured on video, according to the Office of Wayne County Prosecutor Kym Worthy who said that an investigation by the Westland and Canton police departments, assistance from a local news station, and tips lead to the arrest of the defendant.

Prosecutors claim that Thomas broke into a Westland apartment house at about 1 p.m. June 24 and stole a large television from the community room. He is also charged with breaking into a Westland apartment in the 7600 block on Nankin at 3:49 p.m. July 20 and stealing a 60-inch flat screen television. He is also alleged to have broken into a Westland apartment in the 29400 block of Ann Arbor at 10:30 a.m. July 30 where he stole a television located in the community room.

Police further claim that Thomas attempted to break into an assisted living center in the 42000 block of Cherry Hill Road in Canton Township at 1:15 a.m. Aug. 8, but was unable to get into the building.

Thomas has been charged on the three Westland cases with one count each of breaking and entering. He is charged in the Canton case with one charge of attempted breaking and entering.

Thomas was arraigned in 18th District Court on the three Westland cases on Aug. 28 and Judge Sandra Cicirelli entered a not guilty plea on his behalf. She set his bond at $100,000 and he remains in custody awaiting his hearing today. He is also scheduled for a preliminary examination on the charges on Sept. 17.

effort to eliminate Iodine Deficiency Disorder, supports Michigan Mott's Children's Hospital, sends meals to the underprivileged and to those in disaster areas, provides area scholarships and is involved in many other efforts to help children around the world and in the local community.

For those who don't get up that early, there are still plenty of opportunities to help support local altruistic efforts.

The A.M. Rotary Club will serve their famous Spaghetti Dinner beginning about 4 p.m. Saturday in the huge white tent behind E.G. Nick's restaurant on Forest Street.

This year, the dinners will include spaghetti with marinara sauce and Italian meatballs, a tossed salad with Italian dressing, a dinner roll with butter, a cookie and a 16-ounce bottle of spring water for $9, or $10 Saturday. Proceeds from the dinner will be used to provide scholarships for Plymouth-Canton area youngsters who have overcome major challenges in order to graduate from high school; musical equipment for the music program at Starline Academy; books and equipment for the first real school in Jirapa, Ghana Africa just starting construction with funds from the Rotary Club of Plymouth A.M.; a happier holiday for nearly 150 seniors at the Annual Senior Christmas Dinner and Rotary Shelter Boxes for Emergency Relief wherever and whenever disasters strike.

Then of course, comes the Rotary Chicken Barbecue on Sunday which is the event that started the festival about 60 years ago. This is the event that put the Fall Festival on the map and involves nearly 700 volunteers from local high schools and all the Rotary members who serve more than 10,000 chicken dinners in one day.

This year the price of the dinners, which include a half a barbecue chicken, chips, a roll and butter, an ear of corn, a cookie and a beverage, will cost $11 if purchased from a Rotary Club member in advance or at the ticket booths located on Main Street. Tickets purchased for the meals Sunday will be priced at $13.

They support another long list of community causes, too, like the eradication of polio through the Rotary Foundation, along with wells for clean water in Honduras and other countries, many local causes including scholarships for high schools students, and a list that includes First Step, United Way and just about every other local charitable group.

OK, you get the idea, right? The Lou LaRiche Main Stage will be packed with entertainment, for the crowds, too. Magician Chris Linn, sponsored by The Friends of the Plymouth District Library, will perform. Linn, known as America's Magical Funnymen, is part comedian and part magician. He will perform from noon until 3:30.

The stage has a full roster of entertainment, including live concerts Friday and Saturday nights. The party lot behind E.G. Nick's on Forest Street will also feature well-known musical entertainment beginning at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday with the $1 cover charge going to help the local Vietnam Veterans group.

"This event brings the entire community together like nothing else does. It involves everybody and the good that comes from it just can't be measured," Jay said. "I'm proud to be involved."

More information about events at the Plymouth Fall Festival can be found in the program included in this edition of The Eagle.

Renovations at Summit on the Park now under way

Regular users of the pool at the Summit on the Park recreation center will undoubtedly miss the facility during the expected five-week closure now under way.

The 20-year-old aquatic center at the facility will undergo a $700,000 renovation involving the pools, locker rooms, sauna and steam room. The summit, with the exception of the Aquatic Center, will reopen at 6 a.m. Sept. 12. The Aquatic Center should reopen at 7 a.m. Oct. 11, according to representatives from the facility.

Planned renovations include improvements to the aquatic locker rooms and showers to ensure more privacy; painting of the steel support structure and ceiling and repairs to tiles; resurfacing of the water slide and replacement of the aquatic area filters with smaller, more efficient models.

The new filters are expected to save on utility costs at the facility which experiences more than half a million visitors annually and currently has 6,000 members, many of whom will have five weeks added to their memberships to compensate for the disruption during the renovation work. Regular swim lessons will not be offered during the five-week shut down and the next session is scheduled to begin Oct. 11; however, Summit Swim School participants will not be charged for September and October. Summit Swim School programs will resume the week of Oct. 11, as well.

During the renovation, the center leisure pool, the 25-yard lap pool, the water slide area and the sauna and steam room, along with the locker rooms will be closed to the public.

The fitness locker rooms will be open during the renovations.

Questions or concerns can be directed to the Summit Front Desk at (734) 394-5460. For more information, visit www.summitonthePark.org.

Going up

The large building under construction on Ann Arbor Road, that will block a street view of Plymouth Township Hall, is an LA Fitness facility and owners were able to finally proceed with construction following a warning by Judge Brian Sullivan of the Wayne County Circuit Court last August that township officials' breach of a court-approved consent agreement regarding the construction was "intentional." The township withheld and delayed permits for more than three years, resulting in a lawsuit by developers. The township faced sanctions and penalties by the court if non-compliance with the consent judgment continued. The developer was able to begin construction a few weeks ago following the judge's intervention.

ARTICLE VII

The governing body of the Authority shall be a Commission consisting of thirteen (13) members, which shall be made up of the Mayors or Supervisors of each constituent municipality or their designees. Inkster - Wayne - Westland

Grant will fund new bleachers in city parks

There will soon be new bleachers at the baseball fields in Westland parks, thanks to a $15,000 grant from Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority (MMRMA).

New bleachers will be purchased by the city for the fields at Jaycee, Rotary, Stottlemeyer and Voss parks.

"Westland Parks and Recreation is pleased to be awarded $15,000 from the MMRMA Risk Avoidance Program (RAP) grant program to assist the city in purchasing new bleachers," commented Parks and Recreation Director Jessica Mistak. "The purchase of eight bleachers will make all bleachers located at ball fields in city parks compliant with current code requirements. To comply, the bleachers be 30 inches above the ground and have handrails to prevent fall hazards," she said.

The MMRMA RAP Grant was established in 1997 to assist in projects that are innovative, with a high potential of solving specific risk management problems. With this grant, the city will be purchasing eight bleachers to replace the existing 30-year-old deteriorated bleachers at the baseball fields. Some of the bleacher benches are broken and have sharp edges, supports that are bent and covered with heavy rust, a spokesperson explained. The grant will also allow the city to purchase bleachers for Stottlemeyer Park where none are currently installed.

"The City of Westland being awarded the MMRMA RAP grant means so much to our city and our organization, as the bleachers at the baseball fields have been in dire need of attention," said Marie Southern, financial vice-president of the Westland Youth Athletic Association. "We truly feel that this grant will help to provide the youth of our area with the field quality they deserve and can be proud of. This is a great step in the right direction."

The Westland Youth Athletic Association is an all-volunteer group and one of the oldest and largest non-profit organizations in the area. Their baseball program provides Westland youth from ages 3-16 the chance to participate in organized sports.

"My administration and I are committed to the safety and well being of the residents of Westland," commented Mayor William Wild. "This grant will allow us to move forward with our goals of beautifying our community, limiting hazards and providing quality amenities for residents to enjoy."

Interim Wayne City Manager is offered position

Wayne will hire another in a long line of city managers as negotiations continue with Lisa Noceri, who has been acting as the interim city manager since June.

During a special meeting last week, council members voted unanimously to offer the job on a permanent basis to Noceri, who is the founder and president of Noceri Strategic Group in Brighton. Prior to founding that company, she was a partner in Winchester Consultants, a company that worked with both Wayne and Westland. Her consulting firm had a contract with the City of Wayne at a $5,000 per year, or $60,000 per year fee, prior to Noceri taking on the interim city manager position.

At the meeting, Mayor James Hayley told the members of the city council that following interviews with candidates for the city manager position, it was determined the city did not wish to pursue further interviews.

"Lisa is willing to continue. We will see if we can make it permanent."

City Personnel Director Carrie Venus and the city labor attorney Gary King will negotiate the employment agreement with Noceri, which will be submitted to the council members for approval.

Legislators set Inkster meeting

Wayne County Commissioner Richard LaBonte will be co-hosting Coffee House this coming month with State Rep. Julie Plawczyk and State Sen. David Knoke. The event will take place from 12-3 p.m. Monday, Sept. 14 at the Leanna Hicks Public Library, located at 2005 Inkster Road.

Residents are encouraged to attend and discuss issues of importance to them.

Bingo to aid shelter

Man's best friend is looking for a little help this month during the Annual Romulus Downtown Development Authority Pumpkin Festival.

St. Aloysius Church is sponsoring the Romulus Animal Shelter Bingo games this year, which will take place all weekend.

"All proceeds from the bingo games will go toward maintenance costs for the new animal shelter," noted Councilman William Wadsworth, who has been directing the efforts to build and now maintain the animal shelter.

Under Wadsworth's leadership, more than $220,000 along with in-kind contributions of labor and supplies from various local businesses has been generated for the shelter.

The bingo games will take place at the Romulus Senior Center, 36525 Bibbins Road in Romulus from 6-11 p.m. Friday, Sept. 18; from 2-11 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19 and from 1-6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 20.

In addition to the bingo games, there will be 50/50 raffles and other entertainment.

For more information, call the senior center at (734) 955-4140, Wadsworth at (734) 941-0616 or Joe Oong at (734) 941-3495.

Write-in candidates file for mayoral post

Belleville voters will have four choices on the ballot when they choose a mayor Nov. 3.

Two residents, Bob Balderston and Carol Sundell, have both declared their intent to seek the mayor's office as write-in candidates.

According to City Clerk/Treasurer Lisa Long, Balderston filed his paperwork to seek the office two weeks ago and Sundell filed last Tuesday.

Incumbent Mayor Kerreen Conley filed the required paperwork to seek reelection before the July 21 deadline and challenger Phil Miller also met the deadline to have his name on the ballot.

While Conley and Miller's names will appear on the ballot, voters wishing to support Balderston or Sundell will be required to write their names on the ballot.

Voters will also choose two new councilmembers from a three-candidate field which includes incumbents Jack Loria and Tom Smith who are being challenged by former Councilman James Shrove.

Doctor pleads guilty to Medicare fraud

A Northville medical doctor who is alleged to have prescribed unnecessary controlled substances and billed for unperformed office visits and diagnostic testing pleaded guilty last week to charges stemming from his role in a $5.7 million health care fraud scheme.

Officials from the justice department said that Larus Lerner, 39 entered a guilty plea before U.S. District Judge Victoria A. Roberts of the Eastern District of Michigan to one count of health care fraud and one count of structuring cash transactions to avoid bank reporting requirements, as charged in a two-count information filed on Aug. 21. His sentencing is set for Jan. 24, 2016.

According to admissions made as part of his plea agreement, Lerner lured patients into his clinic with prescriptions for unnecessary controlled substances. Lerner admitted that he billed and caused Medicare to be billed for a variety of unnecessary prescriptions, tests and office visits to make it appear as though he was providing legitimate medical services instead of medically unnecessary controlled substances. According to admissions made as part of his plea agreement, Medicare was billed $5,748,237.31 as a result of Lerner's unnecessary prescriptions, office visits and diagnostic testing.

As part of the plea agreement, Lerner agreed to permanently surrender his Drug Enforcement Administration controlled substance registration and agreed not to re-apply in the future.

According to court documents, Lerner deposited $70,000 in cash in April 2013 alone by making deposits of $5,000 on 14 different days.

Lerner also pleaded guilty to structuring cash deposits he received as a result of his scheme to avoid triggering the requirement under federal law that domestic banks file a report - called a Currency Transaction Report - with the Secretary of Treasury for all transactions in currency over $10,000. Lerner admitted that he knew about this requirement and caused his cash deposits to be structured in $5,000 increments on consecutive days at various branch locations in the Detroit area to avoid detection. According to court documents, Lerner deposited $70,000 in cash in April 2013 alone by making deposits of $5,000 on 14 different days.

The case was investigated by the FBI, HHS-OIG and IRS-CI, and was brought as part of the Medicare Fraud Strike Force, supervised by the Criminal Division's Fraud Section and the U.S. Attorney's Office of the Eastern District of Michigan. The case is being prosecuted by Trial Attorney Elizabeth Young of the Fraud Section.

"Michigan is still recovering from the effects of recession, and strategic investment such as these herald a return to economie health and the success of Michigan families," Heise said. "Job creators want to move here, and we should consider that the surest indication of a bright future."
