Legality of proposed ordinance questioned

Don Howard
Staff Writer

A proposed "malicious communications" ordinance in Plymouth Township is no more than an attempt to silence political activists and critics of the current administration, according to a growing group of residents who characterize the ordinance itself as "malicious."

The legality of the proposed rules was also challenged by the director of the American Civil Liberties Union and State Rep. Kurt Heise, among others.

The proposed ordinance failed on a first reading last week by a 3-3 vote of the members of the board of trustees. Supporting the new rules, which would make it a misdemeanor to send electronic communications which threaten, intimidate, harass or annoy the recipients, were Supervisor Shannon Price, Treasurer Ron Edwards and Clerk Nancy Conzelmann. Opposing votes were cast by trustees Chuck Curmi, Bob Doroshewitz and Mike Kelly.

Trustee Kay Arnold was absent from the meeting.

Residents who spoke during the public comment portion of the meeting were adamant that the ordinance was a deliberate attempt to silence critics of elected township officials. Many local civic activist groups have websites on which residents post information and comments about board actions. Residents strongly questioned the motives of the board members and accused them of an effort to silence critics. Price, however, characterized the proposed ordinance as an effort to help stop bullying by use of the internet or social media in schools. He introduced the new ordinance with a video of six teens who had been bullied and subsequently committed suicide.

Sandra Groth, a former township employee, told the board members they should work on cleaning up the real bullying which "takes place right here in Plymouth Township" before

Annual festivals set for this weekend

Pumpkin Festival set in Romulus

The largest family celebration in the city, the Romulus Downtown Development Authority Pumpkin Festival, will begin tomorrow in downtown Romulus at Historical Park, 11147 Hunt St.

The 18th annual festival is expected to draw thousands of participants from Romulus and southeast Michigan during the three-day event.

Highlights include the Rotary Club sponsored Parade of Lights tomorrow night, a car show on Saturday, a tractor and lawn tractor show on Sunday, food, children's games and a host of contests. There will be pumpkin-themed events and a lineup of live musical entertainment all weekend including headliner band 50 Amp Fuse tomorrow night. Many of the activities are provided at no cost.

The festival also places emphasis on the history of Romulus. There will be a number of old-fashioned events for families and the museum and other historical structures will be open for tours.

Hunt Street will be closed from Goddard to Bibbins during the three-day celebration. Goddard Road will be closed from Moore Street to the railroad tracks beginning at noon on Friday through the duration of the three-day festival weekend.

"We have a new and larger stage this year with some great acts lined up. We even have a second stage to be able to feature more local talent and performances. The DDA is proud to continue to support this special community tradition," said Maria Lambert, director of the Downtown Development Authority and co-chair of the Pumpkin Festival Committee.

Some Pumpkin Festival highlights:

Parade of Lights: The official kickoff to the three-day festival, the parade begins at 8 p.m. at the Romulus High School rear parking lot, located at 9650 Wayne Road and travels southwest past crowds of spectators on Tobine Road, Shook Road and Goddard Road, ending at Progressive Hall. There will be dozens of parade entries - each covered in lights. The Romulus Rotary Club, which coordinates the parade offers $100 cash prizes for the best entries.

Wayne-Westland OK new recycling program

Residents in both Wayne and Westland will soon have a simple way to donate unused clothing and small appliances to charity.

Each city has approved a 4-year contract with Simple Recycling, a company that partners with local thrift stores and does not compete with area charities such as The Salvation Army or Purple Heart, according to Scott Brady, a representative of the company.

The new service will begin in about a month and residents will be receiving information packets from Simple Recycling explaining the items accepted which are generally limited to whatever one person can carry to the curb.

All items must be clean and dry. Anything that is not accepted will be left at the curb with a tag explaining the reason it was not picked up.

Brady said that items collected through the weekly pickup at curbside of items, including appliances and even small pieces of furniture, are sorted and 20-30 percent goes to resale. Other items of poorer quality or with more wear, are bundled and sent to Third World countries while unusable items are processed for raw materials. Simple Recycling will provide large green bags for the items. When the bag is picked up, another will be left for the homeowner.

Each city will receive $20 for each ton of recyclable material collected.

"The City of Westland is currently diverting one million pounds of trash annually from the landfill with our award-winning curbside recycling program."

"We anticipate we may be able to divert another 5-10 percent with this new program, said Westland Mayor William Wild.

Township offers free golf at Hilltop next Monday

A crowd of golfers is expected next Monday at Hilltop Golf Course during "Resident Appreciation Day" when residents can play for free.

The township is offering a free round of golf, with a cart, to every resident, explained Township Supervisor Shannon Price.

"We are excited to provide our residents with an opportunity to play golf at Hilltop, our municipal golf course," Price said. "A lot of improvements have been made to the course and this allows our residents to experience them first hand."

The 18-hole, par-70, 6,000-yard course is designed with a layout that takes advantage of the rolling hills and tall trees. With challenging greens, and panoramic views, Hilltop offers distinct challenges to golfers of all skill levels, Price said.

"In a recent staff meeting, Police Chief Tom Tiderington suggested that we try to build on the free movie night and offer something to our residents that could not make it to the drive-in," Price continued. "The suggestion to provide a free round of golf to our residents does just that."

Residents interested in participating in Resident Appreciation Golf Day can book a tee time by calling 468-0800, or visit <http://www.hilltopgolf.com>. Golfers will need to show a driver's license or other proof of Plymouth Township residency. Each golf cart must have two golfers, officials said.

"I believe that residents are going to love the improvements that we have made to the course," added Treasurer Ron

Edwards. "I hope residents will enjoy the course and return to play again with a lot of their friends."

In addition to "Resident Appreciation Golf Day," Hilltop also provides golfers with the opportunity to play golf at night with Glow Golf. Glow golf includes nine holes of golf, a glow ball, and glow necktie. Hilltop will also be introducing Foot Golf later this fall.

For more information, call (734) 453-0800.

seeking to silence critics. Another audience member, Dorson Sharpe, identified herself as an employee of the Plymouth Canton School District who works at Discovery Middle School. She told the board members that bullying, while it exists, was being effectively handled by the schools without legislative involvement at the municipal level.

Heise, a Plymouth Township resident, is also an attorney with more than 20 years experience and currently serves as chairman of the Michigan House Criminal Justice Committee. Following the meeting, he said that he was very disturbed by the proposed ordinance and was considering an attorney general's opinion on the constitutionality of the matter. Doroshewitz had suggested such an opinion prior to the vote but received no support from the other board members.

"This proposed ordinance is clearly unconstitutional in its current form, is vague and overbroad, and could serve to trample free speech and political speech in our community," Heise said.

"At a time when the state Legislature is removing over 70 unconstitutional, vague and outdated laws, Plymouth Township is headed in the wrong direction. In far less government and more freedom, which is what our constitution encourages, the last thing we should be doing is using taxpayer resources to intimidate or silence opposing voices."

Heise called the proposed local ordinance "chilling."

Michael J. Steinberg, legal director of the American Civil Liberties Union, was also highly critical of the proposed new rules.

Bark for Life is Saturday

The 5th Annual Bark for Life event will take place beginning with an opening ceremony at 11 a.m. this Saturday, Sept. 19, at Heritage Park in Canton Township.

Bark For Life is a fundraising effort which honors the care-giving qualities of canine companions while supporting the mission of the American Cancer Society. In 2014, the Bark for Life of Canton welcomed more than 90 canine participants and generated more than $10,000 for the American Cancer Society mission.

Registration for the non-competitive walk will begin at 10 a.m. Following the opening ceremony at 11, there will be a survivor ceremony; music provided by Bob Elzai, photography provided by Eye 4 One photography, children's activities provided by Home Depot, shopping, a best costume contest, musical act, and other on-site activities.

"Dogs have many roles in their owner's lives. They are not only a pet but also a best friend. As well a member of the family," said Janet Stoffies, event chair.

"When a person is going through cancer treatment sometimes as a human it is hard to find the right words of encouragement and support. Yet, a dog doesn't need words or direction. They somehow know just what they need to do whether it is cuddling next to you, getting you up for a walk or just being there. They play an important role in the care giving process."

"This is why Bark For Life, a Relay For Life event, recognizes the care giving qualities dogs provide. We celebrate the support they give their loved ones and they too, help us at our event take one step closer to finding a cure for cancer."

To register online visit www.relayforlife.org/barkcantoni.

The event is free and will feature live music, aviation display and vintage aircraft along with a classic car show and model airplane demonstrations.

Discovery plane rides and helicopter rides will be available for a fee and there will be food and beverages for sale.
