Emergency response time questioned in death

Don Howard
Staff Writer

The recent death of a 67-year-old Northville man who suffered cardiac arrest just after midnight on a weekday last month has prompted questions regarding the actual response time of emergency help in the incident.

Emergency response administrators and experienced Advanced Life Support personnel have questioned the response time to the 911 call that was answered at the Northville Fire Department at 12:02 a.m. reporting that the man was unconscious, but breathing. Experts and Emergency Medical While police officers had responded within four minutes, they were able to provide only basic first-aid procedures, such as CPR.

Technicians interviewed asked not to be identified fearing retaliation. They came forward, they said, because the issue is one of public safety, a basic concern in their professional lives. They have examined the official incident reports obtained by a Freedom of Information Act request filed by The Eagle last week.

The victim was experiencing cardiac arrest, a chaotic condition known as ventricular fibrillation. According to medical experts, he had just 6 minutes to live. A shock with a defibrillator within that time usually will restore the heart's rhythm and a victim can still survive if qualified paramedics restore his breathing and administer key drugs, such as adrenaline, according to highly experienced paramedics.

When the call came in, the Northville Township emergency dispatcher transmitted an electronic page and sent an emergency tone to summon available first responders from the 55 paid on-call City of Northville volunteers. According to official reports, following the desperate call to 911, the fire department, the police department and a private ambulance company all were dispatched within 3 minutes to the address on Main Street in downtown Northville, just two blocks from the fire station.

The city fire department ambulance, stored at the fire station on Main and Wing Street, was ready for any two of the

Pumpkin festival rolls into Romulus

The Pumpkin Festival, the largest family celebration in Romulus, is set for Sept. 19-21 throughout downtown.

The 17th annual festival features something for everyone and is expected to draw thousands of participants from Romulus and Southeast Michigan, according to the Jazmine Danci, director of community outreach for the city.

City staff and dozens of volunteers are making final preparations for the festival, she said. Some of the highlights include the Parade of Lights on Friday night, a car show on Saturday, a tractor and lawn tractor show on Sunday, great food, children's games and a host of contests, she added. There will be pumpkin-themed events and a great lineup of live musical entertainment all weekend long. Many of the activities are provided at no cost.

The festival is sponsored by the Downtown Development Authority (DDA).

Danci said that the festival places emphasis on the history of the city. Many of the events will take place in and around Romulus Historical Park and the Downtown Pavilion on Hunt Street. There will be a number of old-fashioned events for families and the city museum and other historical structures will be open for tours, she said.

Hunt Street will be closed from Goddard to Bibbins over the three-day weekend.

The DDA began funding and organizing the festival three years ago and DDA Director Maria Lambert said that since the festival has something for everyone, it will bring the community together in celebration.

Some Pumpkin Festival highlights:
Parade of Lights: The official kickoff to the three-day festival, the parade begins at the Romulus High School rear parking lot, located at 9650 Wayne Road and travels southwest past crowds of spectators on Tobine Road, Shook Road and Goddard Road, ending at Progressive Hall. There will be dozens of parade entries - each covered in lights. The Romulus Rotary Club, which coordinates the parade, encourages even more participation and is offering $100 cash prizes for the best entries in six categories. To join the parade, visit www.RomulusRotary.net, print and complete the free application and return it as directed. Entries will begin assembling at 6:30 p.m. in the parking lot at the high school. The parade is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. Residents and visitors should note that this is a new parade route from previous years in order to avoid construction on Goddard Road.

The Pumpkin Festival Committee for 2014.

Entertainment: The Pumpkin Festival Committee has signed some well-known acts to provide free entertainment during the Pumpkin Festival and will have a new impressive stage to accommodate them.

Performing Sept. 19, leading into the Parade of Lights, will be the classic band Hines Drive at 6 p.m. Your Generation in Concert, featuring Fifty Amp Fuse, is the main event from 8 to 11 p.m. Fifty Amp Fuse draws crowds all over Michigan and is often referred to as Downriver's best cover band. Live entertainment will be presented in the "Pumpkin Pub" starting at 11 p.m.

The Sports Talk 60 show will entertain starting at 11 a.m. Sept. 20. A Tae Kwon Do demonstration will be presented at noon and music will begin at 1:30 p.m. with Warren Commission (jazz), followed by 7th Alley (classic rock) and Mainstreet Soul (funk, soul and rock) at 8:30 p.m. Live entertainment will be presented in the "Pumpkin Pub" starting at 10:30 p.m.

3 teens suffer effects of 'bath salts' drug overdose

In the Thursday incident, a girl had used the drug in a liquid form and ingested eight or nine drops of the drug on her tongue.

Canton Township Police are awaiting a determination from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office regarding charges against a suspected seller of the substance known as "bath salts" or synthetic cathinone on which two students at Salem High School overdosed last Thursday and Friday.

Canton Police Det. Sgt. Chad Baugh said that Canton Fire Department medical personnel were dispatched to Salem High School on both Thursday and Friday last week on reports of children overdosed on the drug, also called Cloud 9. There was also a third incident in Canton Township of a teen overdosing on the same substance requiring medical assistance in the 24-hour period, according to police reports.

In the Thursday incident, a girl had used the drug in a liquid form and ingested eight or nine drops of the drug on her tongue. In the incident Friday, a male student had used the drug in a vapor form and was wandering the school hall aimlessly and bumped into a teacher, spilling her coffee. The teacher realized immediately that the student was in need of medical intervention, according to police, and the EMT unit was called to the school for the second time in 24 hours.

Baugh said after interviewing the children involved, the Canton Police Department secured a warrant and searched a gas station located near Newburgh and Ford roads in Westland where they found quantities of the substance, also known as Bath Salts, Bliss and Hooka Relax Liquid, hidden behind the counter and in a locked safe. He said Tuesday that police were awaiting a determination from the prosecutor regarding charges against the suspected supplier of the paged emergency medical technicians to arrive, the minimum number of personnel required by to operate the vehicle.

The private ambulance requested was a Community EMS Ambulance Co., Advanced Life Support unit with paramedics, the appropriate personnel to administer life-saving measures.

By the time two required Northville Fire Department Basic Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) got to the station and drove the ambulance two blocks north to the man in critical distress, 10 minutes had elapsed from the time of the initial 911 call. When they arrived at the Main Street, address they found the victim undergoing resuscitation efforts (CPR), which was started 6 minutes earlier by one of the three Northville City Police officers already on the scene. The time was 12:12 a.m. and the Community EMS paramedics coming from the 11 Mile Road and Beck station in Novi had not yet arrived to assist and administer necessary medications and the care that only trained paramedics can perform. While police officers had responded within four minutes, they were able to provide only basic first-aid procedures, such as CPR.

At 12:16 a.m., 14 minutes after the 911, call the Community EMS ambulance with the paramedics arrived at the upstairs location to find the victim had died.

Most experts agree that four responders, at least two trained in Advance Life Support and two trained in Basic Life Support, are the minimum required to provide the necessary life saving measures to cardiac arrest victims. Experts say two firefighters to provide CPR, one to prepare the Automated External Defibrillator (AED) and analyze the results of an electrocardiogram (ECG) report, and one to prepare for and initiate advanced cardiac life support measures, such as advanced airway management, I.V. therapy and pharmacological interventions, are the minimum number required to provide the necessary care in a cardiac arrest situation. An important factor in the survival of the patient, the experts said, is not only how quickly paramedics arrive at the scene, but also how quickly they begin administering treatment. Recognized national studies predicting cardiac arrest survival rates link response time to the probability of survival. According to the national model, in the best-case scenario a cardiac arrest victim has a 67 percent chance of survival within the critical first 6 minutes.

Few municipal officials actually know exactly how long their emergency crews take to reach cardiac arrest victims and most are selective about how they report that performance. Many report only the response time it takes for the emergency crew to arrive or the arrival of a police officer, usually first on the scene. Northville Township Department of Public Safety Dispatch, which is responsible for dispatching Northville City Fire Department, is unusual as all dispatch times, to the second, from the first call for help, are recorded, tracked and reported.

Experts said that response times and ratings can be deceiving to the public because having the appropriate personnel on the scene to administer life-saving measures is the most important factor in adequate emergency response, according to medical professionals and paramedics interviewed by The Eagle.

In Plymouth, city officials contract fire and emergency medical services with the Northville City Fire Department even though the two communities are not contiguous.

According to Northville City Fire Chief Steve Ott, there are no established boundaries or rules regarding the maximum distance of residency from the city limits for volunteers.

“Each case is handled on an individualized basis...some (volunteers) live outside of town and work inside town. We don't have a set line in the sand,” he said.

Until 2011, the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township operated as a joint community fire department. After an acrimonious split between those two, officials from the cities of Plymouth and Northville combined fire and medical emergency services. The cities use separate ambulance companies to handle the Advanced Life Support, something not offered by the Northville Fire Department.

The City of Plymouth has a system in place that City Manager Paul Sincock describes as a “three-tiered response,” where police and the outside ambulance company, Huron Valley Ambulance, and the Northville Fire Department are simultaneously dispatched to an emergency. Some of the Plymouth police officers are also trained as fire department personnel and can also perform as a firefighter-first responder.

The City of Plymouth recently received an improved rating from the Insurance Service Office, Inc. (ISO) following an evaluation of the city fire services. According to ISO, a fire department could have paid-on-call volunteers who are retirees, or other staff with little or no full-time experience or training, without impact on the rating.

Plymouth Township still operates with a full-time fire department although the staff has been reduced to 18 full-time firefighters. All regular firefighters are trained as paramedics and can perform Advanced Life Support. In addition the township has seven part-time firefighters, two of whom are paramedics who work 12-hour shifts from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. The fire station that served the largest township subdivision, Lake Pointe, remains closed since the staffing cuts.

The City of Romulus has eight career firefighters and a support staff of eight paid-on-call firefighters. Canton Township has a full-time professional fire department, as does Northville Township, and both offer paramedic and Advanced Life Support. Wayne, Westland and Inkster also are staffed with full-time, non-volunteer firefighters and also offer Advanced Life Support and paramedic services. Van Buren Township which serves both the township and the City of Belleville has both full-time and paid on-call staff and does not offer Advanced Life Support.

(2) Each township contractor shall procure and maintain, during the life of the contract, owner's and contractor's protective public liability and property damage insurance, in the name of the township, in an amount not less than $1,000,000.00, for injuries, including accidental death, to each person; and subject to the same limit for each person, in an amount not less than $1,000,000.00 on account of each accident, and $1,000,000.00 aggregate for damage to property. Such insurance shall include motor vehicle exposure and specific coverage, by endorsement, as required by the supervisor. Each township contractor shall deposit with the clerk certificates of insurance indicating this coverage prior to the execution of the contract. Interference with collection or receptacles. It shall be unlawful for any person other than township staff, solid waste haulers, or other authorized persons to interfere with solid waste placed in the streets, alleys, and public places of the township for collection by solid waste haulers, or to interfere in any way with solid waste receptacles in the township. Sec. 58-116. ## Toys donated to Bark For Life

Henri, a 4-year-old Basenji owned by Jill Young, a Bark for Life participant/vendor and committee member, is donating 85 stuffed toys to the event.

Young explained that Henri accumulated the toys over several months as gifts from a neighbor who is exceptionally good at getting them out of the machines at the grocery stores.

“They started to pile up, so I thought who could we give these to and then it came to me that we could give them to Bark For Life,” Young said.

“When Henri gets a new toy, he carries it home from the neighbor’s house and we put it away in a big plastic bag for Bark for Life. So, anyone who would like to have one of Henri’s donated toys, should come to Bark for Life Saturday Sept. 20 and make a donation of $1or more and you will get a stuffed toy, while they last,” she said.

Bark for Life recognizes the care giving qualities and unconditional love our dogs provide to us, Young added. “When we had an overabundance of stuffed toys, it was an easy choice to donate them to Bark For Life. And yes Henri does keep a few for himself,” she said.

The American Cancer Society Bark For Life™ is a noncompetitive walk event for dogs and their owners to raise funds and awareness for the American Cancer Society’s fight against cancer.

“By supporting Bark For Life, you help the American Cancer Society save lives, and that helps us move closer to our ultimate goal of a world with less cancer and more birthdays.

“So bring your best canine friend and join us for a fun-filled day starting with a walk, and then continuing with demonstrations, contests, and games,” Young concluded.

Bark For Life will take place from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. this Saturday, Sept. 20 at Heritage Park in Canton. Registration will begin at 10 a.m.

Drugs

substance. Possession or distribution of the synthetic cathinone is a violation of Canton Township local ordinance Section 46-270 and is illegal under state law.

“They are not the bath salts you use in your tub,” police said in a prepared statement.

“These are powerful illegal drugs that have not been tested for safety, and users don’t really know exactly what chemicals they are putting into their bodies. The side effects they cause may be permanent,” police said.

Poison center experts say these substances are among the most dangerous they have seen. Users have experienced many side effects such as: paranoia and violent behavior; hallucinations; delusions; suicidal thoughts; seizures; panic attacks; increased blood pressure and heart rate; chest pain, nausea and vomiting

Police said that anyone suspecting another person of taking bath salts or any synthetic drug should dial 911 immediately.

Persons responsible for the distribution of these substances which result in serious medical conditions or death will be prosecuted in accordance with Michigan state law, police said.

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools issued a statement last week announcing a two-part seminar co-sponsored by Growth Works, Inc. titled Teens Using Drugs: What To Know and What To Do from 7-8:30 p.m. Oct. 8 and 15 at the Canton High School Media Center.

“We are very concerned about students in our community using “Cloud 9” or any substance. Our attention to this matter has been heightened by two instances at P-CEP in the past two days,” the prepared statement sent to district parents read.

“We encourage you to discuss the dangers and illegality of drugs and alcohol, and the importance of good decision making and consequences with your children. We take student safety very seriously and look forward to your continued partnership and support. If you have additional questions or concerns, please reach out to your child’s assistant principal,” the district said in a prepared statement to parents last week following the incidents.

Judge adjourns hearing in HalloWayne case

Chief Judge Richard L. Hammer of the 21st District Court in Garden City has adjourned the preliminary hearing of Christopher Sanders, 45, of Wayne, charged with multiple crimes in connection with the HalloWayne celebration last year, until Oct. 6.

Sanders is accused of multiple felonies including uttering and publishing, forgery, larceny by conversion, identity theft and embezzlement of funds from a charitable organization. All are five-year felonies.

During the court hearing, the prosecutors called five witnesses. A sixth, Beverly Campbell, one of the organizers of the event, was not in court as she was hospitalized. Hammer said he would hear only from Campbell at the October hearing, then rule as to whether there was enough evidence to bind Sanders over for trial on the charges.

Sanders is accused of endorsing a $1,000 check, the prize in the pumpkin carving contest at the HalloWayne event, made payable to Michael Spence, over to himself and depositing the money in his own checking account. Spence testified at the hearing that he did not enter the contest and did not know about the event until Sanders told him about it. He also said he did not receive any money from Destination Wayne, the organizer of the HalloWayne event. Campbell is the signor of the check in question.

Hammer was unconvinced by the testimony and told the prosecutor that he could understand the suspicions, but that those suspicions were not circumstantial evidence of wrongdoing.

Spence admitted he was angry with Sanders when questioned by defense attorney Ron Ruark, but denied he would lie to get even with him.

Hammer appeared unconvinced by the witnesses and told the prosecutor that he could understand the suspicions, but that those suspicions were not circumstantial evidence of wrongdoing.

Ruark said that it is difficult to predict the outcome of the proceedings since “we’re still in the middle of the case.”

He did say that he felt Hammer was taking a very careful look at the case and the evidence presented.

Sanders, who remains free on a $1,000 personal bond, was defeated in his campaign for the city council two years ago. He is currently embroiled in a lawsuit with City Councilman Skip Monit whom he is suing regarding remarks Monit made at a city council meeting after the HalloWayne event.

Sanders has entered a not guilty plea to all the charges.

Westland names new deputy mayor

Thelma Kubitskey has been named as the new deputy mayor in Westland.

Westland Mayor William R. Wild made the appointment last week and Kubitskey began her new position Sept. 15. She has served as the Westland Budget Director since October 2012.

Kubitskey will replace Jade Smith who accepted a position as city administrator in Milan. As deputy mayor, Kubitskey will serve as chief of staff for Wild and oversee the appointed staff.

"Jade Smith has been a tremendous asset to this city since he began with us as the city controller in December of 2007. Jade is a very talented individual and we wish him the best in all of his future endeavors," Wild said.

Kubitskey possesses a B.S. degree from Madonna University and retired from Northville Township after 32 years. There, she worked as the assistant township manager/finance director. She has an extensive municipal finance background including completion of capital improvement projects such as construction of a new township hall.

Her previous experience has prepared her for successful work on many projects with the City of Westland, including the new city hall and new fire station projects, according to the mayor's office. As the budget director she also aided in making Westland the only city in Wayne County with a 3-year balanced budget and helped build a $5.5 million rainy day fund.

"Thelma Kubitsky has played an integral role in many of the key projects we are currently working on within the City of Westland. She brings a wealth of knowledge and experience, and her familiarity with the staff and her level of professionalism made her an excellent choice to assume the role of deputy mayor," said Wild.

Chamber seeks candy donations

Halloween will be celebrated at the Wayne Farmers Market from 3-7 p.m. Oct. 29. Organizers from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce said they expect plenty of ghouls, goblins, princesses and superheroes this year and are seeking help in providing enough treats for everyone. Halloween candy donations can be dropped off at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce office, 34844 W. Michigan Ave. from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. The chamber organizers are hoping to make this Halloween event an annual tradition at the market. An open house has been planned at 7 p.m. Sept 23 at the chamber office for the community to meet new Executive Director Brenden Rowe. The event is open to the public.

Shooting suspect surrenders to police 'without incident'

The man suspected by Romulus police in the fatal shooting of a 25-year-old man Aug. 25 has turned himself in to officers.

According to police reports, LeAndre Lemar Childs, 18, walked into the Romulus Police Department lobby at about 1:45 p.m. last Thursday and turned himself into officers. Police said he was taken into custody without incident.

Childs was arraigned on charges of First Degree Murder and Felony Firearm at the 34th District Court on Friday.

The charges stem from a call to Romulus Emergency Dispatch at about 7 p.m. Aug. 25. When officers arrived at the home in the 1500 block of Harrison Street in the area of Inkster and Eureka roads, they discovered the victim, a 25-year-old white male, suffering from a gunshot wound. Emergency medical care was provided at the scene by first responders and the man was immediately transported to Oakwood Hospital Wayne. According to police, he died at the hospital as a result of his injuries.

The victim was allegedly involved in an earlier altercation with three men which resulted in one of the men shooting the victim with a handgun. All the suspects fled the scene, witnesses told police, in a Ford Probe-type vehicle, traveling northbound on Harrison Street.

A Be On The Lookout for the vehicle

was issued by Romulus police who later identified Childs as a suspect in the shooting.

One other suspect was described as a black male, about 24-years-old, wearing all black clothing and a black hat. Witnesses had no description of the third man.

Anyone with information regarding the incident is asked to contact the Romulus Police Department at (734) 941-8400.

Recall language disallowed by county board

Don Howard
 Staff Writer

A Wayne County Elections Commission panel last week denied the first submission of petition language seeking to recall four Plymouth Township officials from office.

The grassroots effort fostered by an active citizens group seeks to remove township Supervisor Richard Reaume, Clerk Nancy Conzelman, Treasurer Ron Edwards and Trustee Kay Arnold. The petition language cited blatant disrespect and failure to respond to residents' repeated requests and concerns. At issue is what the recall group describes as the lack of transparency and poor leadership.

Christopher Hunter, a township resident and attorney who has recently challenged board members' decisions, is adamant about proceeding in spite of the first denial.

"This is a mere speed bump," Hunter said after the hearing. "We're not stopping the recall."

Hunter said he felt the rejection may have been because the group was attempting to be too careful with the petition language. He said one major reason not listed in the submission was the failure of the treasurer to submit timely financial audits to the state as required by law and properly account for drug forfeiture funds in township financial records. The township is currently undergoing a forensic audit by the U.S. Department of Justice, Drug Enforcement Agency regarding the records cited as "substantially lacking" by township auditors, Plante Moran.

According to state law, recall petition language must be presented to the county clerk before the recall petition may be circulated and must be factual and clear and based on the officer's conduct during his or her current term of office. The reasons for the recall printed on the recall petitions must exactly duplicate the language approved by the County Election Commission.

The Plymouth Township submission went before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Milton Mack, Chief Deputy Treasurer David Szymanski and Wayne County Clerk Cathy Garrett for approval. Garrett was absent from the hearing. Szymanski was standing in for Wayne County Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz.

All four of the officials targeted for recall by the group attended the hearing Wednesday. Conzelman, who has a law license but whose duties as clerk do not include legal advice or counsel to the township, read a prepared statement of objection. Earlier this year Conzelman sent unrelated and personal expenses through as township expenses including her Michigan bar fees; one reason cited on the recall petition application against her.

Had the language been approved, the recall group would have to gather signatures of about 3,000 voters in support of the effort to get the question placed on the ballot.

Amphitheater project moved to recreation plan

The controversial amphitheater project in Plymouth Township Park is now a part of the 2015 recreation plan review and will go no further until that discussion next year.

Only three weeks after a definitive vote by the board members to continue the project, Township Supervisor Richard Reaume proposed a resolution moving the project to the recreation plan during the regular meeting last week. The resolution was approved by a 6-1 vote. The dissenting vote was cast by Trustee Bob Doroshewitz who explained that his concern was not in moving or delaying the project but in the fate of the funding already allocated to the project. The township sold $1.9 million in municipal bonds, purportedly for the amphitheater and an all-season pavilion in the park, along with repairs and renovations to other recreational facilities in the community. The entire project was a $2.55 million improvement plan with the balance of the funding to come from grants and funds previously allocated for recreational improvements.

Doroshewitz said that he felt the money already allocated for the amphitheater should be set aside until a final decision was made on the project and not become a part of the parks and recreation budget.

Trustee Chuck Curmi also questioned the allocation of the funds. "I thought the original intention was to start (the amphitheater) this year. It's a $1.5 million capital improvement. I don't understand what the real plan is," Curmi said.

Township Clerk Nancy Conzelman asked, "Are you opposed to it (the resolution)?"

"I'm suspicious of it. What will replace it? We'll keep the funds unallocated?" he responded.

Curmi did vote for the resolution after some discussion during which Reaume said that the money would be there for three years.

Doroshewitz, however, was adamant that the funding remain allocated.

"We should protect that money. Earmark it, or we could pay it back."

"I don't see any reason to put a hold on it," Reaume responded.

The resolution came as a surprise move to the standing room only crowd in township hall where residents had been protesting the amphitheater for months. Protests regarding the amphitheater and other decisions of the board had prompted a recall against Reaume, Conzelman, Treasurer Ron Edwards and Trustee Kay Arnold.

Three weeks ago the board voted to 4-3 to continue with the project despite the overwhelming protests from residents who requested the project be delayed pending public input. Following that vote, a group of residents mounted a recall campaign.

Reaume adamantly denied that the resolution was a response to the recall effort which was derailed by the three-judge elections commission in Wayne County last Wednesday. The panel denied the proposed petition language on the recall ballots prompting organizers to vow to re-submit language and continue the effort to oust the four board members.

Commission appoints new member

Colleen Pobur will return to the Plymouth City Commission after an absence of nearly a decade.

Members of the commission voted unanimously last week to appoint Pobur to the vacancy created by the resignation of Commissioner Meg Dooley who is moving to Northville. Pobur served on the commission for six years and chose not to seek re-election after completing a four-year and then two year term in 2003. Since then she has served as a member and chairwoman of the Plymouth Brownfield Authority. Pobur also served on the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for four years.

Pobur will serve the remainder of Dooley's term which will expire in November of 2015.

Students receive new backpacks

Students lugging heavy books and in need of school supplies during the opening weeks of the 2014-15 school year got some much needed help at the annual Wayne County Backpack Giveaway event. Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano and other personnel gave away 200 backpacks, complete with needed school supplies inside, at Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville Sept. 9.

An estimated 100 children received the free backpacks at the Edgemont School event. The remaining 100 backpacks were given to the Romulus Boys and Girls Club to distribute.

“The Backpack Giveaway is one of my favorite initiatives and is a win-win,” said Ficano, who started the program in 2003.

“It eases the burden on parents and guardians to provide the supplies their children need to succeed in school,” Ficano added. “The program also sends a message to kids to be prepared for school by having their books, pens, note books and other items in order.”

The Wayne County

Department of Health and Human Services provided funding for the purchase of the backpacks and school supplies from its Healthy Living Fund. Other financial supporters include Bill Brown Ford of Livonia and Community Bridges Management, Inc.

Northville chief ends 43-year career

Northville Police Chief Gary Goss counts himself a lucky man.

On his last day as chief last Friday, Goss admitted his retirement might be somewhat bitter-sweet.

“I’m going to miss Northville. I feel I’ve been really fortunate to have worked here and have the support of all the officers who pitched in and helped these past eight years.”

Goss has spent 43 years in law enforcement. He joined the Detroit Police Department in 1971 and graduated from the police academy in March of 1972. He joined the City of Farmington in 1978 as a public safety officer which included duties as both a police and fire officer. He served on the Farmington Public Safety Department for more than 25 years, the last 13 of which he was the director of public safety.

Goss joined the Michigan Sheriffs' Association in Lansing in 2004 where he remained for about a year before becoming police chief for the Village of Fowlerville. From Fowlerville, he joined the City of Northville department.

Goss has a bachelors degree from Mercy College and a masters of public administration degree from Eastern Michigan University, where he is currently an instructor of public safety administration.

Northville Police Cpt. Michael Carlson will replace Goss in the chief's office. Carlson has been with the Northville department since 1992 and is a graduate of Madonna University and the School of Police Staff and Command.

Goss said he has every confidence in Carlson and feels the transition will be an easy one.

He said that Carlson has ample command experience both with the Northville department and during his service in the U.S. Army.

Goss said he plans to continue teaching at the university and doesn't expect to be bored during his retirement.

“I have a big honey-do list to work on,” he said.

Retired Police Chief Gary Goss
