Train delays continue in Plymouth up at CSX last week has been rumored as the cause of increasing incidents of widespread delays, long trains and spread delays, long trains and traffic tie-ups that have plagued Plymouth for months, as rail-road employees push back against changes. According to The New York Times, CSX is again reorganiz-ing management ranks announcing last week that three top executives have been replaced. Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer Cindy Sanborn, Vice President and Chief Sales and said that CSX had initially blamed the 9-hour blocked crossings in Plymouth on the train crew.

The documentary, produced and directed by Pfaendtner, fol lows the personal experience of 59-year-old Rodney Harris as he recounts a lifetime of subtle and not-so-subtle racism.

The event is coordinated by the Canton Response to Hate Crime Coalition, an award-win-ning coalition of local law enforcement, leaders, and representatives of communi-organizations, faith-based orga organizations, faith-based organizations, public schools, and the community at-large, who are committed to raising awareness of hate crimes, bias incidents, and bullying. The coalition offers support to victims of hate-bias/bullying and helps to when these incidents occur.

"This event continues our efforts to bring our community together to listen to and learn from each other's experiences," said Eva Davis, director of the Canton Public Library, and co-chair, along with Sgt. Dale Waltz of Canton Public Safety of the "Conversations like this one make it clear to all who live, work, or go to school in Canton that when it comes to hate, bias, and bullying, we say. Not in our town, "said Waltz. Davis expressed her hope that Canton residents demon strate their willingness to have the conversations necessary to develop respect and understanding across racial, religious and ethnic groups. "As a pilot city for Not In Our Town's Gold Star Cities initiative, an even like this, along with our Nationa See Forum, page 5
